

Thomas M. Hoenig
Board of Directors
Vice Chairman,
Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC),
United States of America

Thomas M. Hoenig was elected President of the IADI and the Chair of the Executive Council for a two-year term at the Annual General Meeting held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia on 29 October 2015.

Since 16 April 2012, Mr Hoenig has been a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) Board of Directors. In this position he has served as a member of the IADI Executive Council since October 2012. He was confirmed by the Senate as Vice Chairman of FDIC on 15 November 2012.

Prior to serving on the FDIC board, Mr Hoenig was the President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and a member of the Federal Reserve System's Federal Open Market Committee from 1991 to 2011.

Mr Hoenig was with the Federal Reserve for 38 years, beginning as an economist and then as a senior officer in banking supervision during the U.S. banking crisis of the 1980s. In 1986, he led the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank's Division of Bank Supervision and Structure, directing the oversight of more than 1,000 banks and bank holding companies with assets ranging from less than $100 million to $20 billion. He became President of the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank on 1 October 1991.

Mr. Hoenig is a native of Fort Madison, Iowa. He received a doctorate in economics from Iowa State University.