MEMORANDUM TO: Bank Supervisors, Central Banks, Deposit Insurers, Ministries of Finance, and Resolution Authorities

FROM: FDIC International Affairs

SUBJECT: FDIC 101 Solicitation – November 5 - 9, 2018

Overview FDIC is soliciting participation for the second 2018 session of FDIC 101: *An Introduction to Deposit Insurance, Bank Supervision, and Resolutions

FDIC 101 is designed to provide a high-level overview of the FDIC’s policies and operations in a format tailored for an international audience.

During the week-long seminar, senior FDIC experts will:

- Describe the FDIC’s bank supervision activities and authority.
- Explain how the FDIC manages the Deposit Insurance Fund.
- Describe how the FDIC resolves failed banks and its role in resolution planning for systemically important financial institutions.

FDIC 101 does not intend to teach international best practices in deposit insurance, bank supervision, or resolutions; FDIC experts will only present the FDIC’s approach to these issues. By the end of the session, participants should be able to compare what they have learned with their own experiences to determine which lessons may be most applicable to their organizations.

Candidate Profile FDIC 101 is designed for senior to mid-level managers and rising leaders from deposit insurers, central banks, bank supervisors, and other agencies involved in financial stability.

Participants in a position to influence policy at their organization and with a strong understanding of their crisis management framework would benefit most from this program.

Participants should have at least five years of experience in the financial sector and be familiar with one of the program’s core subjects: supervision, resolutions, or deposit insurance.

During registration, organizations will be asked to provide information about their proposed candidates to verify that they meet the prerequisite experience.

Translation services will not be offered. Students should have a strong command of English to maximize their comprehension of the event.

Registration Request Process Space in the program is limited. FDIC will attempt to accommodate at least one candidate from an interested organization. If more space becomes available, we will contact your organization to register additional candidates.

- 1) Email fdic101@fdic.gov to request a registration form.
- 2) Complete the registration form and send it to fdic101@fdic.gov no later than August 3, 2018.

The registration form should be submitted or approved by an individual authorized to coordinate attendance and travel to international training programs. FDIC will confirm receipt of registration forms.

- 3) During this initial phase, each organization may register only one participant. The registration form will ask how many additional participant spaces the organization would be interested in reserving.
- 4) FDIC will confirm participant registration by approximately August 10, 2018 and may offer organizations an opportunity to register additional candidates.
- 5) Registration confirmation will be accompanied by a fee invoice with instructions on how to remit payment.

Program Fee The fee to attend FDIC 101 is USD 500.

The organization's designated point of contact will be sent an invoice by email approximately eight weeks before the session. The invoice is payable by wire transfer, credit card, or cash. Participants must pay or make payment arrangements no later than October 5, 2018 or the participant's registration will be canceled from the program.

Location of Training, and Optional Lodging FDIC 101 will be held at the FDIC's Arlington, Virginia, location, at the following address:

FDIC Seidman Center
3501 Fairfax Drive
Arlington, VA 22226-3500

Lodging: Lodging is available at the FDIC's Student Residence Center in Arlington, Virginia. The nightly rate for November 2018 is not available yet. For reference, the nightly rate for November 2017 was $201 plus tax (10%) for a single occupancy room with kitchen facilities.

Participants are not required to use the FDIC Student Residence Center and may choose to arrange lodging elsewhere.

Meals: Continental breakfast and lunch will be provided. Any dietary restrictions must be requested in advance of the program.

Cancellation Organizations may cancel before October 5, 2018 without penalty. After October 5, 2018, fees will not be refunded and may be applied to future registration. Organizations may also substitute participants after registration provided the new participant meets the minimum candidate qualifications. There will be no substitutions after October 26, 2018 without prior approval.

FDIC Contact If you have questions about the program, you may contact the FDIC 101 Team at fdic101@fdic.gov.
