Core Principles for Effective Deposit Insurance Systems

On 18 June 2009, IADI and the Basel Committee for Banking Supervision published Core Principles for Effective Deposit Insurance Systems after extensive collaboration with interested parties, including the G10 Task Force on Deposit Insurance, and the European Forum of Deposit Insurers. The Core Principles set a benchmark for jurisdictions to use in establishing or reforming deposit insurance systems.

IADI, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision and other interested parties – including EFDI – are working with the IMF to develop a methodology to enable assessments of deposit insurance systems. Assessments can include self-assessment, or by third parties including consultants, and Financial sector Assessment Programs (FSAP) conducted by the IMF or World Bank. The financial crisis has elevated several issues for coordinating actions among countries. Please see link to a recent Financial Stability Board note for G20 ministers and Governors meeting on 6 – 7 November 2009 Exit from extraordinary financial sector support.
measures which includes a joint IADI – IMF memo on unwinding temporary deposit insurance arrangements.

• Deposit Insurance Organization of the Year

Each year, IADI’s members nominate and select the Deposit Insurance Organization (DIO) of the Year. The main criteria for the award are contributions to financial stability through fulfilling national mandate, and active participation in international cooperation in the field of deposit insurance through research, training assistance, developing guidance, and chairing or actively participating in IADI Standing Committee and Regional Committee events. This unique honor is conferred upon a member deposit insurance organization in celebration of an important achievement and/or in recognition of the contribution that the member has made to further IADI’s objectives. 2008-2009 has been a very difficult period for most of IADI members. The financial crisis has challenged deposit insurance organizations in an unprecedented manner, and strained resources. Despite the challenges, many of our members made significant contributions to support financial stability and contributed to IADI’s overall objectives.

For the 2009 DIO Award, IADI’s members selected the SAVINGS DEPOSIT INSURANCE FUND OF TURKEY (TMSF). During the financial crisis, TMSF supported its broad national mandate and contributed to international cooperation. Turkey’s accomplishments during the year include:

• Hosted EFDI-IADI joint conference in October 2008 and Claims and Recovery Seminar in August 2009

• Actively participated in six IADI committees and subcommittees, and has undertaken research in several areas of deposit insurance, including: Islamic deposit insurance, coverage limits, cross border issues, risk management, and evaluation of deposit insurance fund deficiencies

- Participated as presenter and moderator at international conferences and seminars
- Implemented risk-based advanced premium system in 2008
- Has a broad mandate of deposit insurance and significant practitioner experience as a result of the 2000-2001 crisis.

IADI President Martin Gruenberg presented the 2009 Deposit Insurance Organization of the Year Award to Mr. Ahmet Ertürk, Chairman of the Savings Deposit Insurance Fund of Turkey.
